

Student Life Upholds Lilien's Decision

No Election Necessary

SPECIAL: The Student Life Committee today declared by a vote of 7 to 2 that the present Student Council acted unconstitutionally in over-ruling the decision of their advocate.

An appeal from Advocate Charles Lilien concerning the Student Council's vote last week to hold a new vice-presidential election was brought before a meeting of the Student Life Committee this afternoon.

That body's ruling on whether or not the vote was unconstitutional cleared up the week-long controversy over who would be the vice-president of the new Student Council. By today's decision, Leonard Kirsten is elected to the post.

The whole problem stemmed from the fact that six unstamped ballots were added to Leonard Kirsten's total to break a tie between him and Frank O'Brien for the vice-presidency in the recent elections. Lilien, the Student Council advocate, ruled that the ballots were legal, since an election official had known and told him that several ballots were not stamped in the early hours of the elections.

Frank O'Brien entered a protest to the Student Council contesting the decision which was taken up by the Council in a special meeting last Tuesday. After much discussion, the Council reversed Lilien's ruling by a vote of 5-2, and at the same time, ordered a special vice-presidential election to be held May 13. The candidates were to be the same as during the last election, Harry Crosswell, Leonard Kirsten, and Frank O'Brien.

Advocate Lilien's appeal, heard today, charged that the Council's decision is unconstitutional.

Law School Building Drive Plan Announced

PLANS TO RAISE $4,750,000 for a new building to house the George Washington University Law School were announced last week by Cloyd Heck Marvin, President of the University.

In a speech before the alumni of the Law School, Dr. Marvin said the building will be eight stories high and will occupy an entire city block, "favorably located." The block is being acquired at an expected cost of $800,000. Four large lots already have been purchased and a bid was recently made for two more lots. Location of the block will remain a secret until the purchase has been completed.

Dr. Marvin predicted that "a half century from now George Washington University Law School will be the greatest Law school of the Nation."

He also disclosed that the new law school will have three assistant deans in the future. One will be in charge of enrollment; another to direct public law activities, and the third will be in charge of patent law.

Plans for the law school, he said, include a foundation for the development of the principles of patent law. As reported in the Hatchet recently, the American Patent Law Association has approved the foundation.

Dr. Marvin also stated that 20 persons were under consideration for a new dean of the law school to replace William C. Van Vleck, who is still teaching but has been relieved of administrative duties because of his health.

New Student Union Opens; Includes Cafe, Lounge Rooms

By HAROLD GORDON

THE NEW STUDENT Union Building will be informally opened next Monday by the president of the University. A formal dedication will take place in the Fall. The building will be open to all students of the University.

Students Say 'Thanks' To Mrs. Farrar

IN AN ATTEMPT to thank Mrs. Mildred Farrar for the invaluable aid that she has been to the activities on campus for the past year, a group of students are planning to present her with a small gift. Any persons interested in sharing in this expression of gratitude should contact the Hatchet office.

In the process of renovation since last summer, the old Columbia Hotel has blossomed out as a fine addition to the campus. The old and seemingly perpetual eyesore is at last gone.

According to John Toomey, construction chief on the job, the main difficulty encountered was a shortage of structural steel. It was mainly for this reason that the entire structure was not torn down and rebuilt. The original building had a good body of re-enforced steel girders throughout. A then existing shortage of this type of steel forced the University to use what was on hand.

The long delay noticed by everyone was caused by not receiving the additional steel necessary to complete the building. As soon as it did arrive, in late February, work was renewed at a rapid pace. Practically the whole building was finished in less than six weeks and only landscaping and interior finishing remained.

The structure has four floors, including a first floor cafeteria. The second floor will be a reading lounge. The fourth floor will consist of a game room and several smaller music rooms.

Several new materials have been incorporated in the building. Among these are Kallitron and Vardar. These are two types of plastic sheeting that will be used in the new color schemes. Kallitron, which is a washable material, will be used around the pillars and walls up about four feet. Above that, paint will be used on all of the floors except the first. On the ground floor Vardar will be used. Vardar has imprinted upon it a palm design that will give the effect of palm trees throughout the room. The Kallitron on the first floor will be Colonial Green to blend with the palm tree effect.

Color Schemes

The second floor will have a coral color scheme, with the wainscoting in a dark shade of Kallitron and a lighter shade of paint above it. Furniture for this floor will be in a dominant shade of green.

In the third floor lounge the furniture will be a coral color, with some of the smaller pieces in a wheat shade. The furniture from the second and third floors will be interchangeable. The color scheme on the third floor will be of Colonial Green wainscoting with a lighter green above.

In the fourth floor green game room the old battle-scarred tables from the present Student Club will be put back to duty as card tables.

New Cafeteria

Among the improvements that will be included in the cafeteria will be a new type of table. The tops of these tables will be of a new material called Formica, a stainproof and waterproof material. It is only supposedly resistant to cigarette burns. The counters serving food also will be covered with this substance.

In charge of the building will be Professor Vincent DeAngelis, assisted by the present manager of the Student Club, Mrs. Harris. A Student Council-appointed committee

All-University May Day Festivities Include Queen, Carnival Booths, Mortar Board Taps

Women's Honorary Taps At Ceremony

MORTAR BOARD, national honorary for outstanding senior women, tapped seven new members during the May Day ceremonies in Lisner Auditorium Friday evening.

The new members were initiated Saturday at 4 p. m. in Strong Hall Lounge. After the ceremonies a banquet was held at the Broadmoor Hotel. Arthur E. Burns, dean of the School of Government, spoke at the banquet.

Next year's president of Mortar Board will be Mildred McDowell, the vice-president, Elaine Langerman; the secretary, Sylvia Srnka; treasurer, Florence Hager; and the historian, Grace Bunker.

Honorary membership in Mortar Board was awarded to Virginia Dennis, assistant professor of Physical Education for Women at the University. Miss Dennis received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of California and her Master of Arts from New York University. Her activities at the University of California included the Physical Education Majors' Club, president; Orchestras; Phrateres; Senior Honorary; History Club, secretary; and chairman of Field Week. Some of her activities since leaving college have been recreation director of Oakland, California; graduate work at New York University in health education; in charge of teaching synchronized swimming at the National Aquatic Forum in Florida; Red Cross Water Safety and First Aid Instructor, instructor in recreation. WILLIAM WARNER, president of the Student Council, crowns Mildred McDowell May Queen during the festivities in Lisner Auditorium Friday night.

Mildred McDowell Reigns As Queen

FOLLOWING THE THEME of electing the May Queen on the basis of activities and interest, University students chose Mildred McDowell, Alpha Delta Pi candidate, for this honor. After the crowning of the May Queen by Bill Warner, Student Council president, she, with her honor attendant, Diana Cabeza, the Delta Gamma nominee, and her court reigned over the ceremonies held at Lisner Auditorium Friday night.

Additional honor was conferred on the May Queen when she was tapped by Betty Ann Paisley, outgoing president of Mortar Board, as president of the 1949 chapter of Mortar Board. Other Mortar Board officers tapped were Elaine Langerman, vice-president; Sylvia Srnka, secretary; Florence Hager, treasurer; Grace Bunker, historian. Members who were tapped were Adeline Andrews, Shirley Labowitz, and Sally Evans Reifsnnyder. Honorary membership was conferred on Miss Virginia Dennis.

Interspersed among the achievement awards was the announcement of the decision of the Carnival Booth judges. Jerry Strong of WINX, Claude Mahoney of WTOP, and John Ball of WOL awarded to Delta Zeta's booth, "The Wicked Stage" first place, second place to Sigma Nu's "Big Top," third place to Kappa Kappa Gamma's "Halo Kappa," and honorable mentions to Kappa Alpha's "Colonial Capers," and Kappa Delta's "Baby Race."

Under The Axe

• SCRUBBING PRINTERS' INK from our hands as the last Hatchet of the college year goes to press, we relax, and reminisce with relief and regret. The year is nearly out. The job is done.

Sentiment suggests, and tradition teaches, a summing up of the school year just lived, lest its achievements and its unsolved problems be too soon forgotten.

This has been the year of "Handy Andy Davis" and "Honest Dave Shapiro," of the new Council of Vice-Presidents, of the new Student Union Building, and Colonial Boosters. It's been the year our debaters won the Grand Nationals, the year our gridmen beat the Virginia cavaliers for the first in fifty eight, and then pounced on the perennial rival, Georgetown. It's been a presidential year, with Hatchet polls gone wild with all the rest, and our University the first to have a float in an inaugural parade.

Campus elections this year were run on a healthier, more honest basis than in recent years. Aside from a few underhanded whispering campaigns, everything was strictly above board.

Freshmen for the first time in history produced a Freshman Follies without upperclassmen, although the humor in spots was low on the acceptability scale.

The Student Council, notwithstanding the fact that it has been anything but representative itself, (president, vice-president and comptroller were fraternity brothers) saw fit to establish a Council of Vice-Presidents—a voice for some hundred fifty organizations that may bring any matter of student concern to the Student Council for action.

The University came through with a plan to purchase a Cherry Tree for each alumnus, thus allowing students to purchase a streamlined yearbook for $1.50. Really a good deal in view of the expected discontinuance of yearbook production after last year's deficit, the new book should be distributed very soon.

Independents wrote violent protests when we lauded the fraternity system which is the core of extracurricular activity here. And the frat boys screamed pleas of innocence and righteousness whenever we jabbed in their direction. But after a little prodding, and an expensive weekend of football falls and fractures, the Interfraternity Council came up with a workable insurance plan.

While statistics rate our fraternities tenth in the nation scholastically, half of them fell below the all men's average. University installation of a system to determine scholastic eligibility of pledges for initiation has had seemingly disastrous effects on the size of some pledge classes. But scholarship averages should climb in the long run as a result of the new requirement.

Hatchet inquiries as to University policies regarding fraternity housing were followed by a meeting of fraternity presidents with Director of Men's Activities Max Farrington and National Interfraternity Conference President Frank Myers. It was assumed that the University would take no action contrary to wishes of fraternities in the matter, and that a fraternity row on or near the campus was not likely soon. What about the land across the river that's been mentioned in line with expansion now and then? The idea of fraternity houses facing the Potomac is worth consideration.

The Gate and Key Society, which seems at last to be on the road to extending membership to outstanding members of all social fraternities, joined the IFC this year to throw a Christmas party for a local orphanage. Like the art show sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and the Art Club, this should become tradition through annual repetition.

Charity drives flopped this year mostly because the committee was unaware of a regulation limiting choice of charities. A revised handbook printed during the summer would avoid future fiascos of this nature. The current idea of establishing a scholarship for a foreign student ought to be reconsidered to the effect that the University would provide scholarships if students here would contribute to living expenses.

May Day this year looked like an antique with one of its legs missing. Divorced from its greatest purpose, the tradition lags on. Formerly tied in with a college introductory day for high school seniors, the ceremony looks now like a hodgepodge of odds and ends that could nicely gain prestige for, say, a Junior Prom. Juniors and Seniors combined funds and efforts to have a nice affair at a small hotel, which is an improvement over past attempts. But why not a queen of the Junior Prom instead of a May Queen, and presentation of awards at intermission, just as the IFC and Panhel do at their big dances?

And while we're ruthlessly advocating cutting down a crowded-campus calendar, we would increase attendance at proms and auditorium functions by forbidding religious club from holding All-U dances to swell their own treasuries. Even if they break even, they deprive the classes of a chance to make good.

Fraternities seem to have picked up the right idea in throwing All-U parties and charging no admission. For more than ten years, the Shipwreck Ball had been the only such affair here. This year, three fraternities gave all-U parties.

We're sorry if you showed up beneckied, begowned and bewildered vainly looking for dances or games or meetings twenty-four hours after they were held because a green reporter forgot to write "tonight" instead of "tomorrow night" in his story for the next day's Hatchet.

We're sorry the nude woman on the calendar at the Potomac Boat Club didn't show much in the Hatchet picture of February 15.

We're sorry the year is slipping away. The whirl of stress and strain, dissatisfaction and resentment, the tiffs with faculty and students, and the squabbles betwixt ourselves, the cries of crucifixion aimed at us by the Red Cross, the glares of those lucky people who used to get examinations ahead of time, the sleepless nights and the cuts from classes... that's all over now.

The near future should see a Cancer Research Clinic here, a new Law School building, and, we hope, the solution of the perennial parking problem. Pencil sharpeners will probably be promised in campaign speeches forever.

Hands washed of a job that pays nothing, weakens the constitution and ruins the disposition, with a sigh of relief and a fleeting thought of what a great experience it's been after all, we shove aside the typewriter and take up the textbooks.

Letters To The Editor

Students Lose A Friend

Dear Hatchet:

The undersigned wish to express their appreciation of the work that Mrs. Farrar has done during the past year as head of the Student Activities Office. We learned with regret of her resignation from the University's staff. Her departure is not only a great loss to the University but also to students and student activities.

During the past year Mrs. Farrar has activated the Student Activities Office and built it up to the place that such an office should occupy on our campus. By hard work she has assembled valuable files and has always been ready to assist students in any phase of activity. The work done by Mrs. Farrar fills a long-felt need in the University for an office that could assemble organizational records with which to guide new officers in the following year. We hope that the University will quickly select another person of equal experience and personality to continue this very fine work.

Again we thank Mrs. Farrar for her many kindnesses and all the good work that she has done for us and the University during the past year.

(The above letter was signed by more students than can be listed here. The letter expresses sentiments of The Hatchet, and, we are quite certain, the student body.)

Blaring Nonsense During Class Hours

Dear Hatchet:

I should like to echo the sentiments of "A Very Irritated Student," and add a sprinkling of my own and, I'm sure, the majority of the student body's indignation.

Student elections are a fine medium for instructing embryo citizens of the modus operandi of Democracy. By all means, let us encourage them. However, in view of the fact that education is the prime objective of most of us here, it would seem that elections should be of secondary, minor importance. This is especially true of the past campaign which was conducted in such a manner as to be highly objectionable. Yes, it was bad enough to be accosted on the campus and harangued at voluble length; it was a sad sight, campaign literature strewn about the quadrangle; but it was infinitely worse to have to listen to the noisy, meaningless (and I do think it was quite ineffectual); disturbing, disgusting P. A. system blaring its nonsense during class hours. Picture, in the heat, an instructor grimacing helplessly, and closing windows as the lesser of two evils. Most of us realize how very difficult it was to listen to a lecture, or even write an examination with that infernal din blasting beneath the window. Was there any sense to it? One would think that the candidates, their managers, and supporters would have just a little more sense, or at least common courtesy. But they did not, and apparently, neither did the university administration! Or don't the powers-that-be have to work on election days? We do.

Please, let us hope that elections will be more effectively regulated in the future... please!

AN INDIGNANT STUDENT.

Empty Promises?

Dear Hatchet:

After hearing the enthusiastic reports of our President's speech at the Monogram Dinner a few weeks ago, and of the building fund drive that was started for a new gymnasium, I thought that at long last the University had changed. I felt that perhaps the boys on top had finally seen the light and had realized that a beautiful new athletic plant would put the University in a position to build up an extensive reputation and consequently attract large numbers of people who have never heard of the school.

How wrong can a guy be? Events of the past few days seem to indicate that where athletics are concerned, the University is just as backward about coming forward as it has ever been. What happened to the gym building fund drive? It has been conveniently forgotten and a 4% million dollar Law School Fund is taking its place. How many "funds" can the University support at one time? Why doesn't the University borrow to build as any firm would do, rather than depend on subscription drives? A new gym will pay for itself in a few years in outside rents.

To add insult to injury, recently an administrative official minimized our need for a gym by insisting that a Student Union is needed more. I feel (and I am not alone) that now that the Vet rush is over, this University is going to need something besides empty promises to attract students. It's about time the speeches and plans that have been talked about year after year took form and became realities.

Very sincerely,

DISILLUSIONED.

Graduation In Our Own Yard

May 5, 1949

Dear Hatchet:

Some of the Seniors are concerned over the plan that the graduation ceremonies be held in the University Yard. Here are some of the reasons for their concern.

1. The size of the Yard is such that we do not feel that it could accommodate graduates of the Columbian and Junior Colleges and a minimum of two guests for each graduate.

2. We believe that some of the dignity of the ceremony will be lost in the shuffle of temporary chairs, the clamor of traffic and school children, and, quite possibly, creeping of insects.

3. The Washington weather is unpredictable and the possibility of showers beginning in the middle of the ceremonies (with the resultant confusion of leaving or protecting oneself) has made the parents voice an objection.

We suggest that the ceremonies be held as usual in Constitution Hall and, if possible, the Junior College and Columbian College graduations held at two separate times. The parking problem would be somewhat alleviated by the move because the Hall is in the vicinity of the President's Park and the office buildings on Constitution Avenue instead of the residences surrounding 21 and G streets.

Yours truly,

E. B.

It's On The Record

By FRENCH CRAWFORD SMITH

• SINCE this is our last column this season, we should like to summarize and theorize a bit. But there is a full measure of more important news at hand so we shall forego our editorializing.

As promised, here is the complete National Symphony Orchestra Watergate Concert scheduled (tho' our heads may roll for printing it a week ahead of schedule!):

July 3: Gladys Swarthout, mezzo-soprano
July 6: Earl Wild, pianist
July 8: Mischa Elman, violinist
July 10: Zoltan Szokolovszky, pianist
July 13: Dorothy Maynor, soprano
July 15: Ballet Night
July 17: All-Tchaikovsky Program
July 17: Carroll Glenn, violinist
July 17: Eugene List, pianist
July 20: Jan Peerce, tenor
July 22: Jorge Bolet, pianist
July 24: Cathedral Choir of Men

Wayne Dirksen, director

Hazel Arth, contralto

Lee Fairfax, baritone

July 27: Gershwin Memorial Concert

June Pickens, soprano

Abba Bogin, pianist

July 29: Grand Opera Night

Eleanor Steber, soprano

Leonard Warren, baritone

The twelve concerts are divided into three series—Sunday, Wednesday and Friday. Those on July 3, 20, and 29 are called "special events" and single tickets will be priced slightly higher than those for the other concerts; however, series subscribers will not bear this increased price.

Howard Mitchell, of course, will again be Musical Director and will conduct all of the concerts.

• AROUND THE TURNTABLE: We hear of a major shake-up in the RCA Victor high command. Is it true that James Murray was relieved of his position as vice president in charge of the record department and that he took a 3 months' "vacation" in Europe in preference to 3 months' pay? And that Paul Barkmeier succeeded him but that the job title now reads "general manager . . ." Is it true that, as a result of the shake-up, David Hall is also job hunting? Is it true that Mr. Finn, former general sales manager, is now advertising manager—replacing Mr. Fielding who is "out"? And that Jack Williams is now general sales manager? And that Mr. Clifton of red seal records has been replaced by Miss Constance Hope? Is it true that most of the staff of "Artists and Repertoire" has been dropped, leaving Mr. Hallstrom as sole survivor? It will be interesting to learn the answers to these questions. It will be more interesting to know what, if any, effect these changes in personnel will have on RCA policies. None, we trust, on our new 45-rpm gadget.

• LAST SATURDAY MORNING the National Symphony Forum Council held an historic first meeting in the Queen Elizabeth Room of the Hotel Raleigh. Howard Mitchell—who was introduced by David Fulton, Forum Director—was the principal speaker. Mitchell discussed the dearth of music education in our school system and praised the Forum as one means of alleviating this deficiency in our culture. He said that in the future the orchestra will give twice as many concerts as it does now and that half of these will be for students. An ambitious statement, that. But one that can come true. He believes that as more persons realize that they are the losers by not hearing good music it will come true.

Tentative plans for next fall's campaign were made and Fulton appointed temporary officers to serve until elections can be held. Over a dozen schools and colleges were represented—not the least of which was George Washington University for it supplied more than its quota with nine representatives including Robert Cochran, James Crowley, Pat Erickson, Edward Hutnir, Glenn Lewis, Kevin Ott, Richard Randall, Douglas Stone and Nancy Sullivan. The next meeting is scheduled for September 24.

• HITS AND MISSES: The District of Columbia Public Library, according to its Mr. Henderson, will allow phonograph records to be taken out beginning next October. The music division has an extensive collection of discs as well as literature, musical scores and the like. This further service will be welcomed by many who find record collecting a bit hard on the pocketbook.

Journalism Now Offered As Major

• JOURNALISM will be offered as a major subject for the first time at the University this fall, officials announced.

Students may major in journalism for a Bachelor of Arts degree, according to Dr. Elbridge Colby, head of the Journalism department. New courses are being added to the program of studies and will be open to students not planning to major in journalism. Journalism survey will remain the prerequisite course for all other courses in the field. Those students majoring in journalism will be required to take courses in public relations, editorial writing, and the law of the press.

Other courses which the University will offer in journalism include copy editing and makeup, reporting, feature writing, newspaper advertising, and reporting of national and international affairs. The latter course will devote special attention to Washington correspondent and press association reporting.

Journalism majors will be counselled to pursue additional courses in economics, English, history, political science, sociology, business administration, geography, and philosophy.

Colonial Boosters Begin New Membership Drive

• COLONIAL BOOSTERS' first annual Spring Drive, augmented by such things as "George," the Colonial Mascot, the Lisner Terrace Booth, and other inducements, swung into high gear this week, and, according to President Jim Van Story, is living up to all expectations.

The Drive, augmented by George, and booths on Lisner terrace and in the Student Club, is in the interest of getting more and better support for the athletic events at the University. The advance sales for next year are doing so well, says Van Story, that the officials of the Boosters are now inquiring into the possibility of enlarging the student cheering section at Griffith Stadium. The section now contains two thousand seats.

A drive to recruit senior men graduating this year is also being conducted by Colonial Boosters for the alumni organization, Colonials, Incorporated at the same time as the main drive.

Graduating senior men are urged to join the organization, Van Story said, and help build up University athletics and activities. In the three years since its formation, the group has attracted many University alumni who have done much to build up University activities. They are extremely interested in getting seniors into the organization because of their knowledge of the problems facing the University, and because the group feels that active senior men should not lose contact with the University.

Seniors are urged by the Boosters to sign up for Colonials, Inc., at any Colonial booster booth at a special membership fee of two dollars instead of the regular ten dollars.

El Club Espanol

Pat Wiggins Named Beauty Queen; Cherry Tree Due During Finals

Cup Award Came At Joint Party

• PATRICIA ANN WIGGINS is the 1949 Cherry Tree Beauty Queen. She was selected by the nationally known orchestra leader, Johnny Long, following an afternoon and evening of personal interviews with the contestants.

The picture of the Queen will appear with pictures of the princesses and court in the Cherry Tree which is due on campus at the beginning of the examination period, May 18. Ann Brandenburger, editor-in-chief, announced that the books when they arrive will be sold from a booth at the corner of 21st and G Streets.

Pat Wiggins, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, is queen of a court led by Ann Diffenderfer, Senior Princess, who is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Ann is current Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, former Dreamgirl of Phi Kappa Alpha, and represented the University as a princess at the Apple Blossom Festival.

Julia Halloran and Pat Hart, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma and the Newman Club, respectively, were selected as Junior Princesses. Other candidates were Dionne Dalton, Chi Omega; Louise Whiting, (See CHERRY TREE Page 8) tee, known as the House Committee will also assist in its operation.

President Marvin's Statement
In a statement to the Hatchet, Dr. Marvin said,

"Many students and alumni will enter our new Student Union building and say to themselves, 'Here is one of our dreams come true.'"

"I speak for myself and other members of your faculty and administrative staff when I say it is our dream come true, also. Working together and enjoying recreation with others is an important part of college life. Through social cooperation students develop a capacity for teamwork, for understanding, appreciation of the way men do things. They gain a clearer concept of what it means to live and to lead in a democracy. Students at The George Washington University have always been urged to mix campus affairs with their formal training, and they have usually done so.

"At this time we have more students attending the University than ever before. We are outgrowing our old habitats, the 'Bunny Hole,' the 'Student Club,' and now come to a new one, the 'Union.' The University is proud to present a new setting for student life where our greater student body may aspire to great adventure and achievement in human relationships."

Disabled Veterans Reorganize Club

GOVERNMENT HALL was the scene of the reorganization meeting of King Chapter No. 4 Disabled American Veterans Tuesday. This chapter, which has been inactive for several months, was originally organized by a group of disabled veterans who were students at the University.

Among the national officers of the organization who spoke were Captain Cicero F. Hogan, National Director of Claims; Earl G. Hendrick, his assistant; James W. Lumsden, National Employment Officer; and John W. Burris, National Civil Service Officer. These officers outlined a program that is being developed to provide part-time employment for disabled veterans students and assistance in finding permanent positions for all disabled veterans graduates.

Charles H. Schreyer, Juell R. Ness, William F. Craig, Manlio M. Lopez, Claude A. Barrow and Paul Cornell were named as the active membership committee on the campus, which is to embark on an extensive membership drive among eligible disabled veterans on the campus.

The next meeting will be held shortly after the beginning of the coming semester—details will be announced later.

Alpha Lambda Delta

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA elected officers last Friday at 3 p. m. in Columbian House. They are Edith Venezky, president; Betty Rosenzweig, vice-president; Esther Halpern, secretary; Mary Beth Koenig, treasurer; and Lee Harrison, historian.

Sigma Kappa Elects

RECENTLY elected officers of Sigma Kappa, social sorority, are Louise Odineal, president; Gay Yocum, first vice-president; Joan George, second vice-president; Marion Baker, recording secretary; Kitty Adams, corresponding secretary; and Maurice Delevaux, treasurer.

Mrs. Farrar, Other Changes Announced

CHANGES in the administration of the Student Activities Office, Personnel Office and Veterans Affairs become effective this spring.

Mrs. Mildred Farrar, who has served as Secretary of the Student Activities Office for the past year, and her husband, who is studying at Georgetown, are leaving for a three-month vacation at their home in Berkeley, California. Next fall they will reside in Worcester, Massachusetts, where Mr. Farrar will take his doctor's work in geography at Clark University. Her resignation is effective June 1, but to date no replacement has been announced.

Leonard Vaughn, formerly of the Veterans Office, will take up his position directing in the Personnel Office on June 1. He took personnel work at the University of Wisconsin, and was a psychology major at this University. Besides being Acting Director of Veterans Education, he was Resident Manager of the veterans dormitories. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and an honorary ODK.

General Donald C. Faith, a former director of Analysis and Research, Command and General Staff College, was appointed Director of Veterans Affairs this April. Gen. Faith received the D. S. M., Silver Star, Bronze Star, and Legion of Merit for his work in the Army.

Delts Open House

DELTA TAU DELTA fraternity will have an Open House for the entire University at their new home, 1909 H Street, N. W., this Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

The building was procured with the aid of the University which also helped make the necessary repairs in the former boarding house. Robert Valliant was in charge of the interior decorating of the new quarters where fourteen members of the fraternity will live.

Delta Theta Phi Holds Founders Day

DELTA THETA PHI, professional legal fraternity, held its annual Founders Day Banquet April 23, at the Shoreham Hotel, with Charles Rhyne as toastmaster.

Two things every college man should know!

1. This is a senior. Just in gown for a few days. Spends four years wool-gathering—winds up with sheepskin. Graduated to "Manhattan" shirts years ago.

2. This is a "Manhattan" Vericool. Open-weave fabric just invites a breeze. Long and short sleeves. In white and solid colors. Size-Fix (fabric residual shrinkage 1% or less). It's the coolest thing over an undergraduate.

Alumni Nominate Trustee Members

• BALLOTS HAVE been mailed out to 21,000 alumni who will nominate two of their number for positions on the University Board of Trustees.

Those nominated are: Watson Davis, editor of the Science News Letter; Judge Frank H. Myers, of the Municipal Court bench; Charles Stanley White, member of the Board of Trustees for the term 1946-1949 and member of the School of Medicine faculty from 1900 to 1946; and Frank L. Yates, Assistant Comptroller General of the United States from 1943.

The ballots are to be returned to the Secretary of the Alumni Association by May 17.

French Club Meets

• LE CERCLE FRANCAIS is giving its final party for the semester Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Columbian House.

Two French comedy skits will highlight the evening's entertainment. The skits will be followed by dancing, group singing of French melodies, and recordings of Jean Sablon and Edith Piaf. Everyone is welcome.

Case Club Ends Year With Special Talk Competition

• FINAL ARGUMENTS in the Case Club competition will be held this evening at 8 p.m. in room 10 of Stockton Hall. Henry W. Edgerton, judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, will preside over the case.

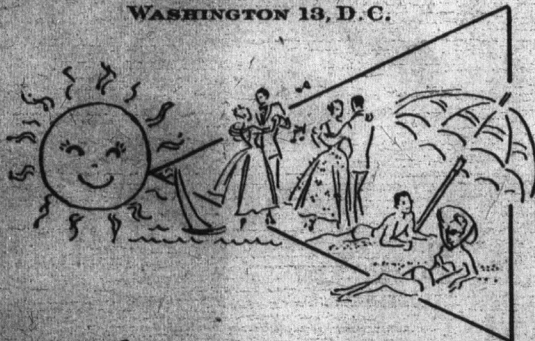

The winner will be chosen from among the four finalists, Leigh Curry, Charles Hulvey, Hiroshi Sakai, and George Wicker. He will be chosen on the basis of the brief prepared and the court presentation of an appeal on a will contest involving the interpretation of the word "children" and the application of the Rule Against Perpetuities.

Contestants will be limited to a brief of 18 pages and argument before the judge of 15 minutes.

In addition to various cups and books to be awarded to the winner and the various finalists, the man finishing first will become president of the Case Club for the next year.

The finalists were selected on the basis of a previous competition which was entered by 160 law students.

Last Friday night at the Teke formal at the Washington Golf and Country Club great things happened. Ann Granger, Ohio, was chosen Queen of Teke; and DZ Barbara Sorenson and Don Caulfield got pinned, almost! Saturday morning the brothers of Teke were still looking for the pin on the golf course . . .

While on Saturday night the Phi Sigs replenished their record collection by having a very successful record party. SAEs are still glowing over their x-change with Kappa Sunday. The TEP's joined with their Maryland brothers in having a roaring week-end.

Mortar Board was short one member at initiation ceremonies Saturday afternoon, when Dottie Whitley called to explain she wouldn't be able to make it until she got out of the police station. Seems she was charged with 1.—double parking, 2.—no permit, 3.—no registration, and 4.—while she was searching her purse for the license and registration an unpaid parking ticket fell out. The new members' initiation fees went to bail her out.

Council officers was incorporated into the program. Outgoing Advocate, Charles Lillien, gave the oath of office after which President Marvin delivered a charge to the new Council and gave keys to this year's Council members. Newly installed Student Council members are Charles Crichton, president; Martin Kirsch, advocate; Lynn Clark, secretary; John Donaldson, publicity director; George Fleetwood, activities director; Leonard Grant, program director; and Joseph Barrish, freshman director. Both Charles Crichton, and President Marvin commented on the school spirit here in their talks and were of the joint opinion that for a school of this size and location, the University has a high level of student interest.

Awards were also made to outstanding bandmen of the year. The Kappa Kappa Psi, national band honorary, first-year award was given to Peter Van Allen; Delores Hastings won the award granted to the member of the band who has given the most service throughout the year. The Leon Brusloff award to the most valuable band member of the year was given to Jim Crowley, president of the band.

Director of Men's Activities, Max Farrington, presented the Who's Who certificates to the students who were selected for the honor. Mortar Board held their annual tapping ceremony. Those receiving them were: Mary Ann Arnold, Elaine Ann Brandenburger, Jerry Brastow, Lawrence Brown, Dorothy Caplan, Nancy Groves, Calva Kephart, Leonard Kirsten, Joe Koach, Elaine Langerman, Bess Lavine, Irvin Liljgren, Mary Olga Longley, Virginia Myers, Doris Nahm, Elizabeth Paisley, Ann Pasternak, Ella Peel, Jim Reisch, Rachimill Schlafsteyn, Jane Shanks, Bill Spangler, Ernest Squires, John Voneiff, Bill Warner, and Dorothy Whitley.

Music for the program was provided by the University Band and the combined men's and women's Glee Clubs. The Glee Clubs sang Romberg's "Serenade" from the "Student Prince" and "I Dreamt That I Dwelt In Marble Halls" with Elizabeth King, soloist.

With the conclusion of the program in Lisner, the Gym was opened for the carnival festivities. Students and guests allowed themselves to be stamped on admission and milled about the booths.

Physics Society Honors 5 Men

tional in that it does not favor fairness in the election. Article III, Section B, Paragraph 8 of the Constitution reads: "The duties of the advocate shall be to supervise and to maintain order and fairness in all general elections to the Student Council . . ." Only the Student Life Committee, made up of six students and six faculty members can pass on the constitutionality of Student Council rulings.

O'Brien's protest to the Council can only be on the grounds that the advocate did not maintain fairness in the elections since there is no rule in the constitution requiring ballots to be stamped. The only reference to ballots in the constitution comes in Article IV, Section D: "The duties of the (election) committee are . . . to provide a printed ballot and to supervise polling and counting of the ballots . . ."

Dance Groups Elect

• THE DANCE Production Groups announced their officers for next year at a Square Dance Thursday in Building J. Ed Durlacher, nationally known caller and teacher, was guest for the evening and music was by Bob Daniel and his Square Dance Orchestra. The University Glee Clubs will sing. The procession will be formed at 7:15 p.m. in the South Crypt and will enter the Cathedral Auditorium at 7:45. Parents and friends of graduates are cordially invited to attend, and no ticket of admission is required.

President and Mrs. Marvin will receive members of the graduating classes and their parents in the Chinese Room of the Mayflower Hotel, Tuesday May 31 8:30-11 p.m. Dancing will follow with music by Sidney.

University Band Concert Sunday

• THE UNIVERSITY Band, under the direction of Leon Brusloff, will present its annual spring Concert next Sunday evening on Lisner Terrace. The concert is scheduled for 5:00 p.m.

This will be the first time that the band has attempted to give a formal outdoor concert, according to Jim Crowley, president of the Band. The seventy-piece band, who have practiced and prepared for the concert every Sunday for the last several months, will present selections including "Pique Dame Overture," "Fantastic Toy Shop Suite," "American Humoresque," and the finale from Franck's "Symphony in D Minor."

It is hoped by the bandmen that the concert will be well attended by both the student body and the faculty. Although admission is free, a special reserved section of chairs will be available at 25 cents each for those who wish to utilize this service.

Luther Green Addresses
Theater Management Class

By RON ROSS

• LUTHER GREEN, theatrical producer and husband of Judith Anderson, addressed the Theater Management Class last Wednesday. He was introduced by Professor Leggette of the Speech and Drama department.

After a few opening words on the need for young people in the theater management side of the profession — anything but acting, unless you have great talent, and the lack of young American playwrights, Luther Green entered his discussion of Medea:

Sigma Nu Elects

• SIGMA NU fraternity recently elected the following men to serve for the coming year: Commander, Bill Paterson; Lt. Commander, John Parker; Recorder, Bill Ross; Treasurer, Charles Floyd; Historian, Joe LeBlanc; Reporter, Waring Marlow; Chaplain, Dick Waring; Asst. Treasurer, Sam Barrow; Alumni Contact Officer, Lomand Roberts; Marshal, Tad Lindner; House Manager, Milt Smith; IFC delegate, Paul Barron; and Sentinel, Woody Hayes.

Officers elected by the pledge class were: president, Jim Whittington; vice-president, Bud Frouxman; secretary-treasurer, Bill Hayward; chaplain, Lee Jungen; social chairman, Dick Chilleri; IFPC delegate, Aubrey Parrot.

"There is no precedent in the American theatre," he said, "for a Greek tragedy being a financial success." Medea, in particular, has never succeeded in any other form than its present one. It is a part that Miss Anderson has always wanted to do. The major difficulty to be overcome was the question of a suitable translation. Robinson Jeffers, the American poet, was approached to do an adaptation. It is his Medea that Judith Anderson will star in at the Sylvan Theater on May 18.

"The Jeffers script is a magnificent acting script, as granite as the Greeks themselves."

After several unsuccessful attempts to sell the play to a producer it was sold and started on a national tour. It toured the United States for a year and returned to New York where it was staged at the City Center.

Mr. Green pointed out that many people were unwilling to see a mother kill her two children, but they went, and enjoyed it, and because of its great drawing attraction, Medea, is relatively as successful as "Annie Get Your Gun."

Judith Anderson has been invited to give performances in South America, Africa, and many countries in Europe, but owing to the strain and tension imposed by such a work she will give only one performance outside the United States, and that in Honolulu. Her next production has not yet been decided upon, but there is a possibility of her doing Oscar Wilde's "Woman of No Importance."

"The Washington production of Medea was made possible by the fact that a desire had been expressed on the part of the company to do it here, and after all, Medea was written to be played outside, in a theater such as the Sylvan."

Luther Green closed his address by throwing the meeting open to a short general discussion on the theater situation in Washington, where he, as many others have done, deplored the existing conditions.

Omicron Delta Kappa

• FRANK CULLEN, president of the Alpha Delta Circle of ODK, was reelected to the presidency in the final meeting of the year held in the Bender Building last Friday. Bill Cantwell was elected as vice-president and Dick Generelly was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Among the Circle's faculty members, Professor Vincent DeAngelis was named faculty secretary, and Dean Myron L. Koenig was reestablished as faculty advisor.

Professor DeAngelis was also made custodian of the ODK Memorial Fund.

Ford's Follies...

By John J. Ford

I'm Going To Dig a Hole

Goodbye. I'm going to dig a hole.

I got the idea from James Thurber—he's looking for a box to hide in. He said he wanted to hide in a big box. "It would be a form of escape," he said. "It circumscribes your worries and the range of your anguish. You don't see people, either." He wanted to hide in a box because nobody would think to look in a big box, not even the cleaning-woman, and he wondered how you would feel in a box when people walk by without knowing you are in it.

I've got to admit that the box idea is pretty good, and of course Thurber gets credit for originality in this thing, but sooner or later a box in the middle of the room will get in the way and somebody will throw it some place or kick it as they walk by or maybe they will take it out and throw it on the city dump, which doesn't smell good even from inside a box. Besides, he could not get a box big enough; the only things he could find were cartons that cans come in.

When I dig a hole I won't have that trouble. I will go off in some old backyard where nobody ever goes and dig a hole and hide in it. I will dig my hole deep and put something over the top so that nobody will know there is a hole there, and nobody will throw it out or kick it or throw it out on the city dump that smells. There won't be any people near my hole and I won't have to listen to them talking like you do in a box. If I get hungry I will sneak out at night and eat roots.

Maybe after I am in my hole in the ground for a while people will wonder where I am. Someday when the gang is sitting around in the seminar room in McKee's somebody will say, "Hey, where's Ford? I haven't seen him in weeks." And somebody will answer, "Oh, I don't know. Maybe he went and dug a hole someplace." Then they will all laugh and think it funny because none of them would really think that I would go and dig a hole and hide in it. It will be fun thinking about this in a hole in the ground.

I have to find a good place to dig my hole. Maybe I'll dig it out in back of "T" Building—nobody ever goes there. I think I will go and get a shovel right away so I can hurry and dig my hole and get inside. It's going to be nice. And quiet. There will be no conversations on a higher plane about whether or not art is imitative or whether an author can use external forces to build an emotion or the future of theatre in Washington or how the American novel is doing. I'm not going to allow any talking. I'm not going to have any officers, either. There will be no elections and no campaigns and no posters on the side of the hole and no girls running by in horse-drawn carts shouting names at you and nobody talking about how they will increase student activities for there won't be any activities. There won't be any students, either. I will give up studying when I dig a hole. There will be no cramming in my hole in the ground and no ambiguous questions and no labs and no intellectual shyster complaining because they only got a "B" in a course they should have gotten an "A" in. There will be no television sets, no alarm clocks, no radios, no bridge games, no gin rummy games, nobody talking about baseball, and no cigarette smoke in my eyes. There won't even be any beer. There will be no drives, committees, group discussions, club meetings, forums, teas, parties or any other manifestations of gregariousness. There won't even be love or beautiful people to bother other people. I won't even let the worms get pinned to one another.

And I want you to know that when I dig a hole in the ground and hide in it you can do anything you like. If you want to start a war, you go right ahead. You can kill each other in all the ways you have thought up to do it, and drop atom bombs and build aircraft carriers and do just anything you like. You can talk about all the books you haven't read and how American movies can be improved and you can let the students mark the professors or go whole hog and let them teach the courses. I won't care. I'll be in a hole in the ground. And I will think about you and know that it has you and that you can't get away. So you go ahead and develop initiative and leadership and make plans and hope and face it anyway you have to. I'll be in a hole in the ground and I'll laugh and know that I was the only man who ever crawled back.

Goodbye. I'm going to dig a hole.

Gate & Key Elects Generally Prexy

• GATE AND KEY elected Dick Generally as president for the coming year at its meeting last Tuesday night. Generally, long outstanding in campus activities, has also been president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and ODK. Howard Ticklin was elected vice-president, Walt Fackler, secretary and Bill Benson, as treasurer.

In addition to holding the elections at this meeting plans for next year's activities were also discussed.

Phi Delta Phi Picnics

• PHI DELTA PHI, professional legal fraternity, held a picnic and clam roast for members and their dates and the Law School faculty at Compton Farms, Virginia, May 1. The fraternity also announced that they plan to continue actively throughout the summer sessions.

ISS Elects At Lunch

• AN ELECTION luncheon was held Saturday afternoon at International House by members of the International Students Society.

The following officers were elected: president, Charles Gass; vice-president, Lilliana Kolavich; treasurer, Herbert Stewart; historian, Abdul Tabibi; and secretary, Esther Halpern.

Phi Sig Contest

• THE PHI SIGMA KAPPA freshman oratorical contest last Wednesday night was won by a member of the University freshman football squad, John M. Sestokas.

Mr. Sestokas gave a talk on, "Our Policy Toward Russia." The prize is a cup which will be awarded after it is engraved.

Second and third places were taken by William Atwood, who spoke on "Our Constitution," and Claudia Chapline, who spoke on "Compulsory Health Insurance."

Workshop Ends With "Conquest"

• "GEORGE WHITLEY'S conquest" was presented as the Radio Workshop's last offering of the season. The original script written by a University student, Bob Jones manifested a deft comic touch throughout.

The story's setting is a small American town of the present. The hero, George Whitley played by Jones, returns from a grueling day spent at the bank and finds his home in an uproar. His wife Eileen, is trying to calm her two youngsters Gloria and Martin. The following day George wakes to find that he can no longer speak normally but is talking backward. He visits Dr. Schauspieler, a psychiatrist.

The doctor attributes the disorder to over-work and prescribes rest. The next day George wakes up to find himself talking in rhyme. This time the doctor advises George to return to the bank and attempt to conquer his nervous condition. On returning to his job the hero finds the bank manager Mr. Dickinson talking backward. Mr. Dickinson, who had been one of the causative factors in George's condition, now asks him to take over his job so that he can go away for a cure. George is so elated he loses his nervous condition and returns home. To his amazement he finds her too "backing talkwards."

The part of George was played by Bob Jones, Eileen by P. Wolman, Martin by Davie Rogers, Gloria by Sally Rubin, Bank Manager Dickinson by Steve Rosenblum and Dr. Schauspieler by Bob Rainsbury. The latter's portrayal of the psychiatrist is expertly handled. The character is projected convincingly with just a shade of German accent. Mr. Rainsbury displays fine feeling for and insight as the physician.

"George Whitley's Conquest" was produced by George McGuinness and directed by Walt Robbins. The announcer was Pete Smith.

The best of the radio plays produced this year, the script represents a high in University broadcasts.

The Radio Workshop elected the following officers: Pete Smith, President; Isaac Issac, vice-president; Walter Robbins, program director; Johnny Johnston, business manager; and Sue Farquibarsou, secretary.

Book XChange Head Asks Expansion

• STUDENT BOOK Exchange facilities cannot meet the needs of University students, according to a statement made early this week by Compton Jones, student manager of the Book Exchange during the past college year.

A full-time cooperative book store run by the University with a full-time manager and student assistants is, in Jones' opinion, the only answer to the problem of abolishing existing high sales prices and low trade-in prices. He suggests the soon-to-be-evacuated Student Club as a center that would deal in textbooks and supplies at lower rates than are now in effect at bookstores throughout the city.

The benefit would be two-fold, he says, to the students and to the University—students would save money on what has become an expensive item in student budgets—books and supplies, and the University would find itself with a new source of income.

Jones mentions cooperatives existing at certain other schools, where profits are returned to the school or rebated to students.

Jones expressed the hope that students here would act through the Student Council, and the Student Life Committee to bring, possibly by fall, a student bookstore to this University.

Skin And Bones

By M. Z. SEBORER

SOPHOMORES AND THEIR RELATIVITY

We haven't heard any good stories recently about the various characters in the school. We attribute this largely to the coming onslaught of final examinations. During the pre-exam period, everyone seems to be preparing to be the wreck he will finally wind up as during the exam period. In the process of preparing to be a wreck, everyone seems to have lost the sense of the humorous.

However, we did manage to wheedle this story out of a still humorous sophomore. Every week, the sophomore class has been going out to St. Elizabeth's for a clinic and instruction. Beat down to his socks one day, Seymour Dubroff was quietly sleeping in the back row during a class conducted by Dr. Ives. When the session was about half over, Dr. Ives, with real concern, asked one of the students awake up front, "Is that boy sleeping in the back of the room one of your classmates or is he a patient here?" The noise of the ensuing laughter was sufficient to awaken Seymour, who, to this day, is unaware of the occasion for the laughter which so rudely interrupted his sleep.

WHADDYA KNOW?

The happy seniors are wending their cheerful ways with Part II of the National Boards behind them.

The examination taken by the entire school on cancer created a minor furor among the members of each class. In our opinion, it was a most interesting examination, and many people felt that it was well worth having taken it. The night after the exam, Boyd's text sure took a beating, for on the following day, everyone assembled loaded with statistics to prove his answers was correct. There is a small controversy raging about the medulloblastoma versus the astrocytoma being the most common central nervous system malignancy in children. The surgically minded favored radical excision whenever the choice was presented. The debates as to treatment are still going on in the halls of the school and hospitals.

Students In Plane Study Land Use

• LAND UTILIZATION in Arlington and Fairfax County was viewed from the air by twenty-two geography students last Saturday afternoon aboard a Capital Airlines plane.

In the air the students observed the relation of land use in all areas and how they relate to each other. When they mapped this area from the ground, the University geographers conducted the first land use survey in this region since 1939.

Taught by Mr. Kenneth Roberts, the land utilization course is the study of the "land resources of a nation or geographical unit to determine for what and how they may be more economically employed."

Organizations Must Submit Election Results To SAO

• ALL ORGANIZATIONS are required to file activity resumes and names of recently elected officers with the Student Activity Office before the close of school. Mrs. Mildred Barrar, secretary of the office has announced. Faculty advisors of all University organizations have been invited to meet this Friday at 4 p.m. in Columbian House to discuss the educational achievements of their respective groups.

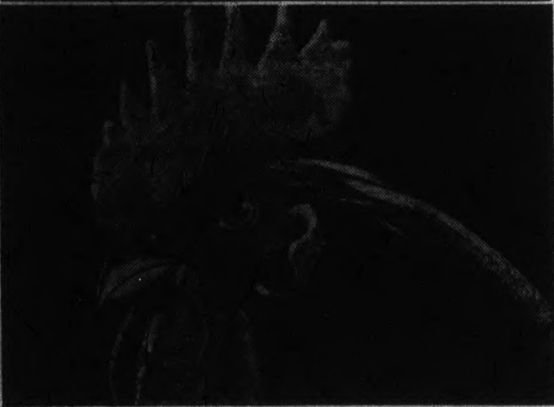

According to the Manual of Policies and Procedures for Student Activities, an organization which does not submit a resume to the Student Activities Office before May 15 will be placed on probation for the year.

These resumes, designed by the Student Life Committee, include information regarding the purpose of the organization, its yearly programs, and the methods used by it for recruiting new members. The records, which will be filed in the Student Activity Office, will be used to evaluate an organization's progress and to help officers obtain a perspective of the past activities of their group.

The Directors of Student Activities and the Student Life Committee has called the Faculty Advisors' meeting this Friday to consider the contributions which the professors may make to their organizations and the educational value and progress of activities.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

He cock-of-the-walk was poor, sad, seedy Sheedy when he found loose dandruff on his comb. Now that he's a Wildrooter, he has something to crow about and so will you. Wildroot Cream-Oil gives you neat, well-groomed hair all day long without a trace of oil or grease. Makes it easy to keep that favorite chick in your coupe forever! It relieves annoying dryness and removes so much loose, ugly dandruff that you really have to scratch to find it! Peck on down to your favorite drug counter and bring back a hen full of non-alcoholic Wildroot Cream-Oil containing Lanolin. Always ask your barber for a professional application! And set on this thought—Wildroot Cream-Oil is again and again the choice of men who put good grooming first.

'Mural Awards Presented Thursday; Krupamen In Georgetown Track Meet

Presenting Of Trophy At Fete

• INTRAMURAL AWARDS NIGHT this Thursday at Welling Hall will feature the presentation of the All-University cups to Arrow Linen and Pi Kappa Alpha as the top athletic competitors in fraternity and independent sports.

In the independent section, it was Arrow Linen by a big margin, while in the interfraternity ratings PiKa led Sigma Chi 475 points to 350 (excluding softball) and KA and Phi Alpha followed with 200 and 225 points, respectively.

Fraternity results show the following Greeks as title holders who will receive recognition Thursday night: Football—Sigma Chi; Swimming—Kappa Alpha; Basketball—Pi Kappa Alpha; Bowling—Pi Kappa Alpha; Table Tennis—Phi Sigma Kappa; Track—Sigma Chi; Volleyball—Phi Alpha; Golf—Phi Sigma Kappa.

Other awards which will be made are as follows:

Arrow Linen Awards: Tony Caruso and John Duncan.

Football—Arrow Linen Sportsmen.

Volleyball—School of Pharmacy.

Fall Tennis (Team)—Kappa Sigma.

Fall Tennis (Individual)—"Bud" Wollin.

Fall Golf (Team)—Kappa Sigma.

Fall Golf (Individual)—Paul Foeller.

Summer Golf—Jim Foley.

Table Tennis—Seymour Gunod.

Basketball—Ramblers.

PiKa, Phi Alpha New Champions In Frat Softball

By GENE LEONARD

• PI KAPPA ALPHA and Phi Alpha by virtue of smashing victories in the final week of interfraternity softball have emerged victorious in their respective leagues. Sigma Nu clinched second place in League B while Kappa Alpha and Phi Sigma Kappa tied for second place in League A.

PIKA got their weekend started with a smashing 4-1 win over Kappa Sigma. Ross Halliday, the winning pitcher, received terrific support as Jim Hudson and "Tiger" Kline accounted for all of the victors' runs with a pair of doubles in the third inning.

In the next game Delta Tau Delta fell below the smashing blows of a hot PIKA team, 15-5. The victors got the games started with a big ten-run inning. Jimmie Kline, Jack Clark and Frank Close each accounted for a pair of doubles to add to the rout. On Sunday, (See SOFTBALL Page 15)

Buff Ties Terps

• BONES BECRAFT, hurling four hit ball and striking out 9 Maryland batters, had to settle for a 4-4 tie in the game played at Griffith Stadium yesterday. The game was halted after 9 innings.

Buff Take 2 Out Of 3 In Week; Face W & M Indians Tomorrow

• AS THIS YEAR'S diamond season nears its completion, the George Washington baseball team gave indications during the past week that they will finish strong and will then end up with a better than .500 record for the year.

The Colonials, in their season's debut at Griffith Stadium on Tuesday, trounced the Hoyas of Georgetown to the tune of 7 to 4, and then on Saturday, in their second appearance at the Senators' ball yard, took the measure of West Virginia by a score of 7 to 4. Unfortunately, sandwiched between these two victories was a defeat at the hands of the Quantico Marines by a count of 10 to 2 on Wednesday.

There now are only two games remaining on the Buff schedule and they both promise to be tough encounters. The Indians of William and Mary, with one of the top teams in the Southern Conference, come in tomorrow to take on the Colonials at the Ellipse, and then on Saturday, May 21, Coach Vinnie De Angelis and his men will have a chance to make a clean sweep over Georgetown by winning the second game of the annual home and home series. This one will be played in the Hoyas own backyard.

The Bull Pen . . . of this year's variety, only "Corky" Krikorian and Hank Bartelloni will not return. Bart, incidentally, is hitting .384 . . . Joe Famulatte, is still over .400 as he has whacked the opposition to the measure of .444 and has now hit in 14 straight games.

Swabbies Gain Third In Regional; King's Point Take First In Races

• THIRD PLACE IN THE MIDDLE ATLANTIC STATES Championship dinghy races was captured by Colonial Sailors this weekend at Annapolis. University sailors who secured a berth for themselves in series B eliminations (also held at Annapolis) last week finished in narrow margin behind second place, although first place was swamped by the hard sailing of the Kings Point Merchant Mariners. The University had held the first place position throughout the first day of the two-day regatta, but on Sunday the Merchant Mariners, led by Jim Fegley and John Smith, quickly garnered a lead and managed to increase it in each successive race, taking first place with ease.

All of the skippers, who had proven themselves to be among the best on the Eastern Seaboard in the eliminations, found the fluky breezes impossible to sail effectively, and there were almost no races without miracle breaks and ruinous shifts. Saturday's races were run off in alternately heavy and light puffs, interrupted by rain squalls. On Sunday the winds were light and variable, added to a strong current. The races were sailed in Tempest class dinghies,

Although only the first two teams are sent invitations to the National Championships held in June at Ann Arbor, Michigan, Navy may not be able to sail in the competition because of its late date, in which case the Colonials will be put in as alternates. Among the qualified teams in the finals, Georgetown University was entered, since they had garnered the championship of the Associate Members of the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association.

High scoring skippers of the regatta were Smith and Fegley of King's Point, followed by Granger and Nordholm of G. W., who were only one step ahead of Peet and Rohrer of Georgetown. Team scores were as follows: Merchant Marine Academy 157, Navy 131, G. W. U. 128, Georgetown 125, Army 105, Princeton 89, Lafayette 92, Stevens Institute 45.

Five Enemies Race Today

• GEORGE WASHINGTON'S final venture into track competition for this year will take place this afternoon when the Colonial extra-mural cinderkickers run against four other District college squads at Georgetown.

Starting at 5, the meet will see runners from American University, Georgetown, Catholic University, and the University of Baltimore, and Maryland opposing the intramural champs from G Street, The Buffmen who took honors in the intramural meet last month and who almost took Wake Forest two weeks ago, will form the squad that Joe Krupa will send against the intramural best of the other schools.

The meet will feature all the usual running events, including a 400-yard shuttle relay. Only two field events, however, will be held. Johnny Grinnell will probably lead the George Washington shot putters and the Colonials will also enter the broad jump.

This meet will mark the final effort for the intramural trackmen. Charlie Gunner, Bill Shirey, Manuel Font, and Johnny Lytle are among the winners of the intramural meet that was taken by Arrow Linen who are expected to pace the Buff squad in this engagement.

WRA Installs New Officers At Annual Spring Awards Tea

● SOUNDING TAPS for the year's sports activities, the Women's Recreation Association last week held their Spring Awards Tea, giving recognition to the outstanding sportswomen of the year and installing the officers for the coming year.

Ginny Myers, retiring president of the WRA, awarded minor letters to Helen Joy, Mary Strain, Nan Mitchell, and Marian Baker. These were awarded for a total of 500 points accumulated under the WRA awards system, and are equivalent to making nearly three varsity teams. Major letters, given for the accumulation of 1,000 points, went to Lynn Mitchell, Ann Arnold, Pat Lawlor, and Ginny Myers.

Calva Kephart received her third star, given for 2500 points, and Beanie Peel received her fourth, given for a 3,000 total. The Junior-Senior Award, given to the Junior or Senior girl most outstanding in athletics, was won by Calva Kephart. Beanie Peel was the recipient of the Senior trophy, awarded to a senior girl on the basis of service to WRA, scholarship, and athletic ability.

The Columbian Women's Award, given to the member who has done the most for WRA, was presented to their hardworking president, Ginny Myers.

New officers, who were installed at the tea, are as follows: President, Dorothy Thompson; Vice-President, Louise Odineal; Recording Secretary, Helen Jungblut; Corresponding Secretary, Dora DePaoli; and Treasurer, Diane Farrell.

Pat Lawlor, President of the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board, awarded trophies to the winners of the tournaments sponsored by the board throughout the year. Kappa Kappa Gamma received a trophy as the sorority winning the most events, and Delta Gamma also received a cup for placing second.

Softball Varsity Announced

Diana Roosevelt, softball manager, last week released the names of the girls chosen to the softball varsity. Members of the team include Genevieve Sonnier, Helen Joy, Phyllis Strawbridge, Dora DePaoli, Calva Kephart, Annette Ruben, Ann Nolte, Diana Roosevelt, and Hildegard Stering. Sub-varsity members chosen were Mary Strain, Pat Lawlor, and Lynn Mitchell.

Winding Up
The Colonial sportswomen, this past year as always, kept the Buff 'n Blue flying high in the inter-collegiate sports world. The riflers wound up in fourth place in national competition, the bowlers took the national title for the April competition, the basketball team kept its reputation as one of the best in the area, and each and every Colonial who participated in sports this year can and should be proud of her team and her school. 'Twas a great year.

Maryland Match Concludes Season For Buff Netmen

● A 4-4 TIE with Maryland yesterday concluded the Colonial tennis schedule with the Buffmen sporting an 11-3-1 record for the season.

The slate changed from one defeat to three last week as the Buff and Blue were beaten by Georgetown, 6-3, and by Davidson 8-1. In the former match, the Colonials were hurt by the temporary loss of Hank Smith, calling for a shift in the George Washington lineup that proved fatal to the Buff chances. George Washington took one doubles match and Johnny Hoyt and Ed Filepek won their singles engagements, but the Hoyas fought through to victories in the other matches.

Against Davidson, the Colonials were up against a highly professional college squad who poured it on their hosts. Harry Ong was the only Buffman who gained a win. The invaders from the South were dead serious throughout the matches and proved to be the roughest opposition that Bill Shreve's crew encountered all season.

Intramural Spotlight

By BUDDY STEIN

● AS THIS IS the last issue of the Hatchet for the year, let's take a look back and see what has happened in the past eight months on the intramural scene.

This has been a banner year for the Intramural Department as participation records were set in virtually every activity that was offered. No other year has seen such large turn-outs in basketball, softball, track, and football as well as the much over-looked minor sports, volleyball, bowling, ping pong, boxing, wrestling, badminton, and all of the others too numerous to mention.

Not only have participation records been set but the calibre of play has improved greatly, making for better contests and exhibitions. Each and every tournament provided thrill-a-minute action for the spectators and proved to be excellent entertainment and recreation for the players and fans alike.

For the first time in many years an Independent team annexed the All University Championship Achievement Cup as Arrow Linen Sportsmen, under the very capable leadership of Al Evry, lead the pack to the wire. The presentation of the cup symbolic of this achievement will be made at the annual Awards Night Thursday in Welling Hall. After this all remaining activity in the program will be of a definite anti-climatic nature.

Too much praise can not be given to the Intramural Director, Joseph H. Krupa, who has done a Herculean job here at George Washington in planning, administering, and executing such an excellent intramural program. Intramurals have two strikes on them at the start in urban schools due to the many distractions and hustle and bustle of city life. Mr. Krupa has overcome this very great difficulty and has developed an intramural program that need not bow to any in the country. With inadequate facilities to add to the problem one can very easily see the type of job that has been done here at George Washington.

It is to be noted that Mr. Krupa is carrying out a program with the assistance of three part-time workers that the University of Michigan has three co-directors, four full-time secretaries, and many part-time employees assigned. Thus, we suggest that in the future before anyone airs complaints about the way the Intramural Program is being run that he first stop and think of the many great difficulties under which such a program is being run and that he further compare our program with that of any school of similar nature (including G. W. of the pre-war years) and he will find that the program here is among the fullest and best in the country, bar none.

As the year draws to a close let's all do all that we might as individuals to further the Intramural Program and facilitate the task that is being done by the Intramural Director. By cooperating in this fashion we will also be helping ourselves and taking a long step toward the full realization of the new field house that we hope will soon be an actuality.

If you can meet the high standards required of candidates for officer training, there's a real future for you in the U. S. Air Force. Capable young executives are needed for positions of responsibility in non-flying assignments: management, communications, engineering, research and other fields. That is why the Air Force is seeking ambitious men and women with college training, to prepare them for leadership. Six months' course begins July 7. Get full details from the interviewing team.

Granger Wins 'Murals, Too

• IN THE SAILING ASSOCIATION intramurals held Friday, Pat Granger sailed her way to a solid first place, taking a first in nearly every race she entered, and not dropping down below second in any. Second place was bitterly contested between Bob Harwood and Steve Falk, who averaged 1.75 and 1.71 respectively. They were followed by Mary Davis and Pete Smith.

The intramurals are held on Fridays, while many of the members compete in the Potomac River Sailing Association Service held on Sundays at Hain's Point. Competition was spurred by the presence of Georgetown University skippers who practice in the Colonial Dinghys at Buzzard's Point.

Fresh Win Two

• IN THEIR FIRST four games, the George Washington frosh have won two encounters, from Montgomery J. C. and Bullis Prep, while dropping two diamond decisions to Ft. Myer and Maryland frosh. Coach "Bo" Sherman is in charge of the squad.

SCHNIP'S CLIPPINGS

By HERB SCHNIP

A FEW WORDS TO THE SUCCEEDING SPORTS EDITOR:

To the person who's privilege it shall be to write this Hatchet sports column next year, I offer these few wishes . . . at the sincere pleasure that I have derived from the position during the past year shall accrue to you . . . and that the record of University sports in 1948-49 which effected such enjoyment shall be extended in the period of your editorship.

Also, I offer the suggestion that the objectives of the Hatchet sports pages should remain three fold; informational, promotional, and propagandizing. The third aim expressed here may be surprising, but I firmly believe that as long as G. W. U. students continue to remain away from home games in droves, then, only through the efforts of the school sports pages can they be made to realize that their teams are worthy of support. Also, until our downtown newspapers forget past prejudices and realize the predominance of George Washington teams in the District, until the Whittleseys, Cooks, and Walshes decide to give Colonial athletics its deserved coverage, the task must remain for the HATCHET to provide full and complete reports.

To you who will write these columns, the unpleasant will come with the pleasant . . . the desperate feeling that comes with approaching deadline and the absence of an idea for an article . . . the frustration that comes of an allotment of three sports pages in which to cram six pages of news . . . and the less frequent occasion of five empty pages and stories for three . . . the compliments of groups which feel neglected . . . "why didn't my fraternity rate a headline for winning the potsy championship?" . . . and you'll find yourself the receptor of the blame for every contest which your varsity teams should happen to lose.

Here are a few things I'd like to see happen during your administration as Sports Editor . . . the laying of the foundations of the new gymnasium . . . the acquisition of at least one new bus to replace the sorry replica now in use . . . the innovation of two new varsity sports for which there now is an abundant demand—track and boxing . . . the return of Jug Garber to the realm of Colonial sports in some capacity . . . an end to the treatment of G. W. U. baseball as the step-child of the athletic (See Schnip's Clippings, Page 16)

Softball

In the crucial game to decide the championship of League B, the PIKA power exploded as the Sigma Nus fell apart in the third inning and PIKA clinched the league title 9-3. The deciding game was close until the third inning when a combination of errors, walks and singles brought victory to PIKA. Paul Barron was outstanding for Sigma Nu, accounting for more than half of the putouts in the outfield. Biff Mauriello and Jack Clark each drove in a pair of runs for PIKA.

Phi Alpha defended their perfect record by taking a close 4-2 win from Sigma Phi Epsilon. Herb Kaslow struck the big blow of the contest with a single with the bases loaded in the third inning. For the first time in six games another pitcher besides Charley Goldberg won a game for Phi Alpha. Harry Shapiro became the first pitcher to break the Goldberg tradition this season.

Phi Sigma Kappa squeezed a close 5-4 victory over Sigma Chi. Jack Panteleis hit a long home run with Eddie Dentz on base to decide the game with a man out in the last inning. Prior to this time the game had been a pitching duel between Jack Hallr and Stan Williams.

Kappa Sigma knocked off SAE 10-3 with Keith Mikoopp pitching a good game and Dick Buchnell batting in four runs.

Kappa Alpha, with "Orchie" Bennington pitching all games knocked off Acacia 8-7, AEPi 5-2, and TKE 8-7. In the AEPi game and the TKE game it was Bennington limiting the opposition to eight hits and George Meyers accounting for most of the runs with a homer, two doubles and a single. Against Acacia it was Walt Borkowski's Texas league single that drove in the winning run in the last inning to go into a tie with Phi Sigma Kappa for second place in their league.

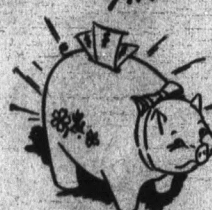

Delta Tau Delta dropped a 12-3 game to Theta Delta Chi, with the victors getting off to a good start with a big first inning. In the next game the Deltas were awarded a forfeit over TEP.

For Warren Gould, who it is my personal hope will fill my shoes next year, there is a lot of good sports reporting to look forward to in 1949-50—another win over Georgetown in football, another Southern Conference Basketball Tournament, a baseball team comparable to that of '48.
